The Berry Ball Bra Protector ($13.99) is a kooky little device I came across a few months ago. It just officially launched in time for stocking stuffer season - a notoriously busy time - so it's fitting that it's a time-saving gadget. Most of us hand-wash our delicates as they tend to get damaged, twisted, punctured, and tangling in washing machines. Unfortunately, hand-washing isn't nearly as convenient as tossing underwear into a machine, which is where Berry Ball & Berry Bag come in! The ball is specifically designed to care for lingerie, swimwear, underwear, hosiery, socks...pretty much anything delicate. You just pop your garment along with the Scrubbing Ball (comes with the set - it cleans your garments from the inside and aids in dissolving detergent), into the Ball and dose the whole thing along with your regular load into the washer. I kind of can't believe something like this hasn't been invented before...right!?

The set comes in sizes Small and Large to accommodate cup sizes 32A – 38D and in colors Pink, Purple or Blue. It's recommended to only wash 1 bra in the Ball at a time, but I've fit more in and it's worked just fine. Just remember that many delicates tend to lose color when washed, so make sure you test out for that before to avoid bleeding!
