So the saying goes, do unto others as you'd have done to you. And the same definitely applies for gift giving. With the most wonderful time of the year steadily approaching, it can be easy to get so distracted by our own desires that we neglect our giving hand. Luckily, our favorite brands are releasing plenty of holiday gifting ideas to get us in the generous spirit, too.

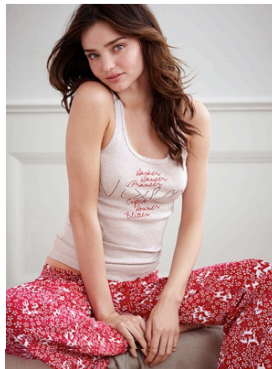

Beauty products, intimate wear, and accessories are always a great option for gifting our girlfriends, since many options are ubiquitous enough to suit a variety of tastes. We've hunted down some of the most impartial, resourceful, or just plain adorable items that are sure to impress and content your pals, family friends, or even co-workers. And don't feel too guilty if you add a few of them to your own list in the meantime, too - who could blame you?

Sephora by OPI Eighteen Piece Mini Nail Colour Set: Nail polish is a gift you can't go wrong with. And what's better than an 18-color set of mini polishes packed in one box? A spectrum of gorgeous reds is sure to build up its recipient's collection of classics, and the addition of edgy brights and metallics are sure to add a refreshing twist to her collection. The set bottles an $81 value but will cost you only $48.

Berry Ball & Bag Bra Protector: Get on the ball this year and give a gift that is sure to become her bra's new best friend. This brand new wardrobe and time-saving care set for bras and lingerie extends the life of your intimate wear and saves you the hassle of hand-washing. It also works great for bathing suits, lights, or even socks. Retailing now for just $13.99 in specialty stores throughout the U.S. and online, it's as affordable as it is brilliant.

Victoria's Secret Pillowtalk Tank PJ Sets: Comfy, cozy, and so darn cute, this tank-and-flannel pants combo will start the pillow talk for its lucky receiver. Available in 13 different seasonal patterns, each of the set features different adorable themes that will make its sultrier irresistible at bed time. Flannel and thermal options are also available, all retailing for $49.50.

Packaged Panties by Affinitas: This unmentionables trio makes for a perfect stocking stuffer or universal gift. The travel-friendly 3-pack of panties comes in brights (pictured) or neutrals and in hipster (pictured) or thong, and its clever carrier makes it a great for on-the-go whether you're headed to the gym or vacation. Priced at an accessible $28.00 per pack and made in a diverse one-size-fits-all style, the stylish set is ideal for gift giving and is available at HerRoom.com.
