This Valentine's Day, Flatter Your Figure

Valentine's Day used to be about heartfelt sentiment toward those you love that didn't require whole aisles of merchandise in big-box retailers.

Let's be honest. By the time we've celebrated 40 or 50 Valentine's Days, we're over flowers, we don't need candy, and our lingerie tends more toward function than form. So, we're giving you some items specially selected to give the one you should love the most: yourself.

Sassybax smooths our torsos and makes our back fat disappear, without making us look or feel like we're wearing power tools instead of sexy looking lingerie.

Fashionista readers use code SASSYBAX11, and get 20% off sitewide for 2 weeks beginning Feb 9th.

Heart Shaped Hand Blown Glass Dishes: available online from GreenLifeSavor, which features sustainable products made in sources as diverse as homeless shelters, artist's studios and small local workshops. No two dishes are the same.

Use the code Fashionista and get 10% off your order.

Younger (Sexier) You, by Dr. Eric Braverman, reveals how diet, nutrients, and medication can alter the brain's chemistry and improve libido.

Sexual health is one of the best barometers of our body's overall health. Even if we don't have partners around to inspire us to swing from the chandelier, Dr. Braverman's plan will help raise metabolism, improve our memory, reduce anxiety and lower risk of diabetes, heart attack and stroke.

Who has time for hand-washing? Berry Ball Lingerie Cleaning System holds your Sassybax and other lingerie in a protected sphere that keeps what's inside from twisting, stretching, and crushing in the washer.
