Q I'd love to wear a low-backed dress, but I suffer from a few pimples. How can I ensure that my back looks great?
Vic Harris, via email

B ackless dresses are perfect for special occasions and they can look really glam as long as your skin is in tip-top condition. Follow my simple steps for a sexy back!

BANISH BLEMISHES
Start by applying a pimple solution containing benzoyl peroxide directly to the problem area, as benzoyl peroxide quickly dries out spots and diminishes redness. I really like Dr. LeWinn's Medic Spot-Clear Gel, $19.95. To prevent further breakouts, ensure that your back isn't forgotten in the shower by lathering up with a specially formulated wash to get rid of dirt and sweat. Try Neutrogena Acne Stress Control Wash, $14.99.

HIDE HORRIBLE TAN LINES
There's nothing worse than showing off a glowing tan with bright white strap marks! Apply a gradual self-tanning lotion and within a couple of days you should have a gorgeous, even-tanned back. Try Palmer's Cocoa Butter Formula Natural Bronze Body Lotion, $12.95

REVIVE ROUGH SKIN
Buff away dry, dull skin by exfoliating once a week. Apply a good scrub either with hands or a mitt and work in circular motions. For silky smooth skin, try Radox Lemongrass Body Polish, $5.99.

Now that you've got beautiful looking skin, you'll never look back (if you'll pardon the pun!). ●
